THE STORY TELLER.

From Bentley's Miscellany.
Forgiveness.—The Return.

BY ALFRED CROWTHER.

The wind was north-east!

Everybody knows that the wind can't help being frightfully and blindingly cold when it comes from that quarter, and to be the place to which all the ingenuity of man has never been able to get him an introduction. I do not see the use of it, if he could, for taking a long journey, when he knows at starting he will only be received in a cold and cutting manner, is folly.

The wind, then, was north-east, as near as could be guessed in the dark. If you turned your face to that quarter, you might almost feel certain it was, as the whistling sharpness seized up on all promences with such a numbing feel that it made your profile a matter of doubt.

Your face became too rigid for a smile, and the tips of your fingers pointedly obdurate: rubbing your hands was a labor in vain; to put them in your pockets, in such cases, must be advisable, as it dispels the cold air which creeps in the insidious manner all over you—into your very boots, noddling your patent straps.

The wind was positively north-east, and worked away in the most industrious manner, to do credit to the quarter from whence it came, undoing all that a soft south-west had been doing in a damp way, for days.

It turned the mud into hardbake, and licked up as much of the puddles as it could, and then finished off by framing and glazing them in the cheapest and most fanciful manner. The roads were as hard as the solid rock, giving a sound to every footstep, enough to startle itself. Knock!

knock! knock!—hammer! hammer! hammer!

very little children and all!

All the undertakers, living where they are never liked, could not have come up to it, even with their unaccountable multiplied knockings.

It was as if the cold-hearted north-east was making a gigantic coffin, at a short notice, to bury the summer and autumn in. Like an energetic advocate for the early closing movement, it put up its sparkling first-work shutters, over every pane; so that the wretched ones might as well have been up, for what you could see of the goods and wares in the shopkeepers' windows.

Carters and working-men began to behave themselves with both hands, in the most inhuman manner, and to spit out every word.

Everybody seemed to aim at unusual velocity, carrying out the decision that they were 'putting on the steam,' by the volume of smoke-like breath that rolled palpably around them. Yet everybody appeared pleased, although the tears did come into their eyes, and their respiration became alternately hot and cold.

It was certainly bracing and invigorating, sending the warm blood to the heart, and giving life to pleasant feelings, thoughts of home and comfortable fireplaces, and pitiful thoughts for those without them. A north-east wind appears good and pleasant, yet it blows open the doors of our hearts, and the doors of shelter for the poor, that only open at its bidding. Even in its severity it brings clarity in its hand, and, with its cold finger, points out to us our duties, too often neglected at other times. So the north-east which is not so bad after all.

The wind came mounted in the foregoing thoughts was a foretaste of a few winters past, and, having reached its point, went the way of all winds; what particular way that is I do not pretend to know, for although we are pre-tently certain as to where it comes from, it there is any faith in weather-lore, where it goes to is a puzzle.

Long coaches were then on the road, at their very best. I had a companion to whom I shall indeed, the gentleman who came over for an hour and a half on Sunday mornings to preach from some distant village. He being only a very small visitor, his coat was very little seen. My uncle, in the kindness of his heart excused him; 'Poor fellow,' said he, 'he has two more churches to attend to.'

We had progressed some miles on our journey, and found the cold getting more severe at every mile; consequently, upon the first stoppage to change horses we alighted to knock some life and feeling into our feet. At the door of the little inn, a small covered cart drew on one side to give us room. After ordering something warm, we popped into the large kitchen, invited by the raucous fire which illumined the whole place.

There, around the blaze, sat some poor shuddering wretches, who, we understood, were being paroled to their parishes, in the little cart which we had seen on our entrance. One more particularly interested us, from her extreme old age

MAILS FOR THE PACIFIC.—The United States steam packet Falcon will be despatched from New York on Thursday, the 28th inst., and from Charleston and Savannah on the 1st of July, the latter in the evening. At New Orleans her mails will be put on board steamer Isthmus, leaving that port on 14th July. Postage for a single letter 12-1/2 cents to Havana, 20 cents to Chagres, 30 cents to Panama, to be prepaid in all cases; and 40 cents to San Diego, Santa Barbara, Monterey, San Francisco or Astoria, to be prepaid or sent unpaid at the option of the sender. Newspapers and pamphlets sea postage three cents each, and inland postage to be added.

MINISTER TO ENGLAND.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, under Monday's date, says: "Mr. Albert Lawrence has accepted the mission to England, and the commission was issued to-day or, at least, it was in some way finally settled to-day. His Secretary of Legation will also be appointed, to wit, Mr. Davis, son of the Senator, John Davis, of Massachusetts."

FROM CALIFORNIA.—Telegraphic despatches have been received by the New York papers from Panama, under date of May 22, stating that the steamship California had just arrived from San Francisco bringing cheering news from the gold regions, besides one million dollars of California gold. The California markets are reported to be overstocked with everything but provisions. There were sixty vessels in the harbor of San Francisco, from different parts in the United States, South America, and the Pacific Islands, principally passenger vessels.

SARTAIN'S UNION MAGAZINE for July has come to hand. It is beautifully embellished, and sustains its reputation well as one of the first magazines in the country.

The value of California gold, received at the Philadelphia mint to the 10th inst., is $362,730, most of which has been coined into gold dollars.

A writer in the National Intelligencer suggests that in every city and town in the Union, on the 4th of July a collection be taken up for the purpose of completing the Washington Monument in the city of Washington.

There is no evidence as yet adduced, to give the slightest reason to believe that the upper crust of society—the snobs, the upper ten—are a jot freer from the follies and vices of the day—socially considered—than the snobs and plebeians.

M. VATTENARE.—This indefatigable gentleman, in connection with the editor of the Boston Bee, proposes to place in the City Hall of Paris a copy of each newspaper in the United States, which may be printed on the week of the 4th of July, and forwarded to the editor of the Bee, for that object. It is an idea well worth carrying out, and a rare opportunity to show the Europeans the amount of reading, in one form alone, the Americans have printed each week.

Great Britain purchased last year over $70,000,000 worth of the agricultural products of this country. Can she continue to be such a customer, if we take nothing but money for her exports? If we by high protective tariffs exclude her fabrics, that our manufacturers may flourish, will it not be at the expense of our farmers?

Some 200,000 German immigrants, mostly men of means, more or less compromised in the revolutions, are expected to reach America during the summer—probably adding some millions to the funds in the country. The investments for German account in our national and state funds are said to be very large.

The papers in Wisconsin predict the entire failure of the Revenue law recently enacted in that state. No notice seems to be taken of it either by the authorities or by individuals.

Arrangements are in progress for the formation of a company to manufacture American steel. A site has been selected on the banks of the Potomac, which has the requisite water power for converting and melting the metal.

Experiments have been made of the comparative excellence of zinc and tin for milk. The result was that milk in tin pails cured three hours sooner than that in zinc, and that the milk in the latter product of one fifth more butter, and of a sweeter flavor.

Don Luis Cuevas, of the home and state department of the republic of Mexico, in a communication to congress of that country, says that the treaty between Mexico and the United States "has been fairly complied with on both sides." This settles Mr. "Protocol" Stevens' business.

GEN. GATENS.—The War department has received a dispatch from New Orleans, announcing that Gen. Edmund P. Gaines died of cholera at that city after an hour's illness, on the 9th inst. Gen. G. was 72 years of age. He was born in Colchester county, Va. He has been in military life from his earliest age.

A riot occurred at Vergennes, Vt., on Friday last. A party of men were refused admission into Sands & Co's circus, upon tickets which they supposed entitled them to admission to the evening performances. Two of the party were killed, and several wounded.

HAMPSHIRE.—Since the year 1816, 1,460 persons have been executed in England, for crimes which are no longer capital by the English law.

THE LONDON TIMES NEWSPAPER.—As a striking fact in advertising literature, it may be stated that the Times of the 14th inst., with its double supplement of forty-eight columns contained no less than 2,116 advertisements.—Reckon these at 7s. each, and none paid the paper less, after deducting duty, and the receipts for the day on advertisements alone would be £740. Reckon only one half of this for fifty-two weeks and six days in the week, and the amount is £115,000, or upwards of half a million of dollars annually clear receipts for advertising only! Certainly the proprietor of the "leading journal" in Europe has a better estate and income than half the sovereigns of the world, and a safer tenure of enjoyment and possession than nine tenths of them. However, the expenses of working such an immense machine as the establishment in Printing-house Square must be very great; and the talent displayed every day in its columns evidences the employment of a crop of most able writers, whose services could not be commanded with proportional remuneration. We have heard it stated that, next to the Bank of England, the Times office is the most wonderful blended and extensive piece of human agency and machinery to be found within the "Great Metropolis."—[Corres. National Intelligencer.]

AN EAGLE SHOT BY A WOMAN.—A correspondent of the Bangor Whig states, that a few days since, in a newly settled part of Maine, in Piscataquis county, a large grey Eagle, measuring 7 ft. across his extended wings, was shot by Mrs. Bagley, under the following circumstances. Her husband was away from home, and while her child was at play in the garden with a hoop, she saw this eagle pouncing down upon her child, and immediately seized a gun and ran to his rescue. The little fellow raised his head and screamed to keep off the eagle, and he alighted in a tree. Mrs. Bagley fired and brought the "proud bird of the Mountain" to the ground.

Major Louis Fizz, of Kentucky, who claims to be the genuine killer of Tecumseh, is out as a candidate for a seat in the convention to revise the constitution of that State. He declares that he will not only advocate the election of judges and magistrates, but also of preachers, school masters and tavern keepers by the people.—Sheriffs, constables, &c., he regards as nuisances, which ought to be abated.

The last remaining democratic Collector in this State has been removed, and the work of removal in the Customs is completed. Gen. Marshall, Collector at Belfast, has been removed, and M. E. Blake, of Camden, appointed.—Carver—Marshall was a democrat, and Blake a whig. "No friends to reward, no enemies to punish."

The Secretary of the Washington Monument Association announces, that the monument has reached an elevation of twenty six feet above the surface, with a foundation of solid masonry, 21 feet square at the bottom and 50 feet 10 inches at the top, upon which the obelisk, eased with beautiful white marble and elevated five hundred feet, is to be erected.

At Gloucester, Simson Merchant has a cat which has nursed and brought up a litter of young foxes. They are two months old, yet she watches over them with the utmost fondness, and they repay it in kind, though if any other cat is thrown into their kennel they tear it to pieces. Madam Fox is so fond of her foxes that she treats her own offspring with indifference.

THE GOOD TIME.—Don't grumble, Bill, there's a good time coming, said a gentleman to a negro yesterday, who was up to his eyes in a business storing freight on the cars at the Fruit-christian depot. "Yes, massa," said Bill, "but it's a long time coming." Who who-y doesn't you send the locomotive for it, and fetch it here at once?—N. Y. Delta.

BEAT SITOR.—Rowman Varney, 56-1/2 ft. high on the night of the 11th inst., at North Twin Dam in this State, weighed when dressed, 515 lbs. The bear came to Mr. V's camp when the crew were absent, stole a barrel containing molasses, and helped himself liberally. Varney gave him a dose of pills from his gun, and stretched him dead. He measured 7 feet, 11 inches.

Mr. Larkin, U. S. government agent at Monterey, is said to be the wealthiest man in California. Valuing his real estate at San Francisco at what it was worth there at the last advance, he would double it to the richest man in N. America. He is a native of Massachusetts.

The great diamond of Ranget, taken with other Sikh treasures, is as big as a hen's egg, worth £1,000, and is to be presented by the East India Company to Queen Victoria. Moolraj, the defender of Multan, is to be imprisoned for life.

In Portsmouth, N. H., they imagine they are about to discover Capt. Kidd's buried treasure. A man dug up a pine tree shilling in making a new cellar, and forthwith a meeting was held to organize a company to dig for treasures.

Most of the ground coffee for sale in this country is said to be adulterated. Burn and grind your coffee yourself, and adulterate it to suit your own taste.

EX-PRESIDENT POLK.—A despatch from Philadelphia yesterday, 1st inst., says.—"The Nashville papers state that Ex-President Polk is dangerously ill of the cholera."

Milton W. Stever, of Southbridge, was put on trial in Worcester, on Wednesday, for the murder of his wife. On Friday evening the jury returned a verdict of guilty. On Saturday morning he was sentenced to be hung. When he committed the murder he tried to kill himself but failed. The law will do it for him.

It is said that there are two sons of Arnold, the traitor, in the English service. They are children of his first wife.

There were only 2200 applications for 75 places in the Baltimore custom-house. Truly, the new system was hungry.

The rapid sale of these Pills in every section of the country where they have been circulated, is a sure evidence of their great value as a medicine for the diseases they are designed to cure. No other medicine of the kind has given such general satisfaction as these Pills, considering the shortness of time since they were first sent into the public for trial. Hundreds of persons throughout the New England States, the State of New York, and the Canadas, have already pronounced them to be the best family medicine they have ever used. It is the general opinion of the friends of the Pills, that they are the best purgative medicine they have ever taken, and proved the following advantages over all others.

1. They are not violent and distress the stomach after taking them. 2. They are not followed by any of the usual effects of other purgatives, such as griping or any other painful sensation. 3. MISCELLANEOUS.

WHAT CONSTITUTES GOOD FARMING? In his work on "Lenses Farming," a rare and valuable contribution to agricultural literature—Mr. Rawstone, the author, remarks:

"It may be laid down as a standing rule, and as a guide to direct us, that all good farming, the whole of that process by which bad land is to be converted into good, and productive, and continued in that state, is comprised in the three following operations of husbandry, viz:

1. To carry off all superfluous and stagnant water, by means of judicious draining.
2. To return, through the medium of manure, the strength and fertility which have been exhausted by cropping.
3. To extract all noxious weeds, that the strength of the manure may be thrown into the crops, and not into the weeds."

Every cultivator who exercises discretion in the cultivation of his lands, will recognize at once the importance of observing these rules. Every weed produced on a farm, abstracts somewhat from its productive value, and when permitted to mature its seed, is a nuisance, the deteriorating and stultifying effects of which will make themselves felt for many years. To manure a field which has been carelessly hoed for one or two seasons, and where more vigorous vegetation has been allowed to reach maturity, than has been destroyed, or even crippled by the hoe, is a labor that can involve little except disappointment and dissatisfaction in the end. Hoeding and weeding are processes which should be performed with skill and circumspection. Every weed should be eradicated and destroyed. When one hoeing or one weeding fails to effect this, let it be repeated; and so on till the soil is thoroughly cleansed, and every vestige of noxious vegetation utterly destroyed. Most weeds are gross feeders, and abstract a greater amount of nutritive matter from the soil, than is required to perfect three times the number of cultivated plants, of equal or even superior size and weight.

POWER OF THE MASSES.—I think something will be done in Europe for the organization of labor; I don't know what; I don't know how; I have not the ability to know; and will not pretend to criticize what I know I cannot create, and do not at present understand. I think there will be a change in the form of society; that able men will endeavor to remove the cause of crime, not merely to make money out of that crime; that intemperance will be diminished; that idleness in rich or poor will be regarded a disgrace; that labor will be more respected; and institutions will be founded which will tend to produce these results. But I do not pretend to devise these institutions, and certainly shall not throw obstacles in the way of such as can or will try. It seems likely that something will be first done in Europe, where the need is the greatest. There a change must come. By and by, if it does not come peacefully, the continent will not furnish "special constables" enough to put down human nature. "If the white republicans cannot make a revolution peacefully, wait a little and the red republicans will make it in blood."

"Eccentricity if we can, forcibly if we must," says mankind, first in whisper, then in a voice of thunder. If powerful men will not write justice with black ink on white paper, ignorant and violent men will write on the soil in letters of blood, illuminating their rude legislation with burning castles, towns, and palaces. While this social change is taking place never so peacefully, men will think the world is going to ruin. But it is an old world, pretty well put together, and with all these changes, will probably last some time longer. Human society is like one of those enormous buildings so nicely poised on another rock that a man may move it with a single hand. You are afraid to come under its sides, least it fall. When the wind blows it rocks with a formidable noise, and men say it will soon be down upon us. Now and then a rule boy undertakes to throw it over, but all the men who can set their shoulders cannot raise the ponderous mass from its solid and earnest basis—THE OCEAN OF PARITY.

BORROWING TOGETHERS.—One of the best things in Tappan's Proverbial Philosophy, is the following:

"Thou hast seen many troubles, travel-sick and pilgrims of the world. But that which hath vexed thee most, hath been the looking for evil. And though calamities have crossed thee, and miseries been heaped upon thy head, yet did that never happen, have clearly made thee wretched."

If pride leads the van, beggary brings up the rear.

Keep thy shop, and thy shop will keep thee. God leads and the devil takes the fees. Mary's mouth costs her nothing, for she never opens it but at other's expense.

The worst wheel of a cart makes the most noise.

Tart words make no friends; a spoonful of honey will catch more flies than a gallon of vinegar.

A mob's a monster; heads enough, but no brains. (Franklin.)

ASSIGNMENT TO SPAIN.—The English papers say that there is nothing more important from Spain than the account of a bull and a bear fight. The fight came in the presence of the Queen and the royal family at Madrid. The bear was captured and killed, and half a million of dollars were paid for the result.

A country clergyman, engaged to the use of the organ in the church service, was, however, overcome by the congregation who determined upon having one. On the following Sunday, the parson accompanied the organ by exclaiming, "I have now a Kennedy Fiddle and a singing the church psalm."
